ANDOVER FAIR.

Andover fair was a tremendous success from every point of view.

In the first place the weather was simply grand; on both days the sun shone brightly from a clear sky making it so warm that no coats were needed. The day before had been cloudy and rainy, and the day after, was one downpour until afternoon; in fact the two days of the fair were the only real pleasant ones for over a month.

The exhibitions were fully up to the average, the pulling, races and ball games were all fine and the Dixfield Band played fine music.

On entering the grounds the first thing to catch the eye, and ear was "fakir's row." First a rifle range where those so disposed might see how many times they could make a bull's eye on either the large or small target; then a food stand with "hot dogs," sandwiches, peanuts etc. etc. Then came Owen Smith with his ball throwing outfit, and he was certainly kept busy. Another outfit of the same kind came next and then a fruit cart.

In the main hall all kinds of fancy work, paintings, maps, fruits etc. were on show. Here also were several dealers from the Falls with clothing, hats shoes etc. At the end Alonzo Barrell had a case containing samples of the precious stones from this locality and E. E. Talbot had a fine display of brushes.

Lane Mountain Grange had a big exhibit and Ralph Thurston showed some fine photographs.

In the Agricultural Hall was displayed garden truck of all kinds. The cattle sheds were filled with handsome animals, all in the best of condition.

Some 700 to 800 people attended on Wednesday and saw some excellent drawing contests, races and a fine ball game.

The morning was taken up with entries and arranging stock and drawing area and stiers.

In the afternoon the first thing on the list was the ball game between Andover and Dixfield, a description of which appears later.

While this was in progress the 2.50 class trot or pace was started. There were four entries.

El Sable,	4	4	4
William H.,	3	2	2
Northland Atlas,	1	1	1
Maggie D.,	2	3	3

Northland Atlas won handily, with a close contest between Fred Smith's William H. Driven by Jack Foster and Ray Thurston's Maggie D., making a very close competition for second place.

After this a special race was run between Northland Alice, 2 2 2 Northland African, 3 3 3 Sable Prince, 1 1 1

In the evening Union Hall was crowded to the doors for the Fair Ball, 127 couples being in the grand march. This was conceded the best dance that has Andover ever had.

Thursday Oct. 3d, the second day, did its best to outdo Wednesday so far as weather was concerned.

Early in the morning crowds began to come from every direction and by 10 a.m. some 1500 people had entered to enjoy the day.

Such a good time as every one had, watching the sports and meeting old friends. Everywhere one turned he would see hands being clasped and happy smiling faces.

In the morning the examination of horses and colts took place, followed by horse and ox drawing, a ball game between Andover and Andover and the awarding of the premiums.

After a delicious dinner, served on the grounds there was some more horse racing. The 2.30 class and the free for all.

In the 2.30 class Sable Princess won first, Northland African second, Maggie D. third and William H. fourth.

Summary.
Sable Princess,	1	1	1
William H.,	4	2	2
Northland African,	3	2	3
Maggie D.,	2	3	4

After this race Owen Smith's trained dog was shown off in front of the judges stand and got a great reception. The free for all. Summary.

Northland Ajax,	3	3	3
Northland Alice,	1	2	2
Sable Prince,	2	1	1

Sable Prince first money, Northland Alice second and Northland Ajax third.

During these races an exciting ball game was being played between the Andover Juniors and the Rumford Wanderers.

Every one was sorry to leave when the races were over and all voted the fair a grand success.

In the evening of the second day the Andover orchestra held a very pleasant social dance in Union Hall, some 30 couples attending.

Without question the ball games were the greatest attractions at the fair, while they were in progress the rest of the grounds were practically deserted.

The first game was between Andover and Dixfield, and for the excellent playing on both sides, could hardly be beaten by any but professional players. Both teams were out for blood, each had won one game and this was the "rubber."

The batteries were, W. Tainter and S. Tainter for Dixfield and W. Marston and W. Roberts for Andover.

Tainter gave two men bases on balls while Marston held them all down.

The first four innings were very close indeed, only one run being scored and that by Dixfield's catcher. In the fifth inning both sides let up a little and six runs were made. O. Holt, F. Holt, Murdoch and Kidder scoring for Dixfield on an unfortunate mix-up in the field, while Lang and Roberts tallied for Andover.

After this break every one settled down again and only one more run was made by either team, Hutchinson coming in for Dixfield in the seventh inning, making the score 6 to 2 in favor of Dixfield.

There were two plays in the game worthy of special mention. Every one played a fine game but Lang's great jump and put out on second was high ball playing, while Holt's long run, one handed catch and roll in the right garden, was a play that could not be beaten by the leguenders.

Dixfield plays a nice clean game and Andover is always glad to play them even though, as in this game, the score runs the wrong way. Umpires, Bridges and Marston.

The second game was on Thursday morning, between Andover and the so-called Andover team, although strict search could find but four men from that place.

This game could hardly be classed with the one of the previous day but it was lots more fun for the audience. The game was liberally interspersed with kicks and one of the players furnished hearty laughs for the spectators by his unwillingness to accept the umpire's decisions.

After a few innings the crowd forgot the game and exerted their energy to jolly the kicker, with excellent results.

The batteries were, D. Rowe and Russell for Andover? and E. Milton and W. Roberts for Andover. Ernest pitched a fine game, striking out eight men and not giving any one a base on balls.

In the first inning neither side scored; in the second Cole made a run for Andover? in the third Richardson, N. Rowe, and Russell came in making the score 4 to 0 against us. Things began to look a little better in the fourth when Amber, Lang and Bristol came in and in the fifth Thomas made it even money. In the sixth the other team made their last run, L. Rowe coming in for them, while for Andover, Thomas, Lang and Bristol tallied in the sixth and Bristol and Lang in the seventh, making the final result 9 to 5 in our favor. In the seventh there was a change of battery for Andover? Dyer taking the box while N. Rowe caught.

The players and positions were: for Andover, E. Milton, p.; W. Roberts, c.; C. Newton, 1st.; A. Lang, 2d.; Thomas, 3d.; Bristol, ss.; C. Hall, r. f.; H. Amber, c. f.; E. Marston, l. f. All of Andover.

Umpires Holt and Marston.

In the afternoon of the second day the Andover Juniors put it all over the Rumford Wanderers. It was a fine game and our boys certainly did great work, defeating the visitors by a score of 10 to 14 in a hard fought battle.

Umpires, Amber and W. Marston. The names and positions of the Andover Juniors—S. Marston, p.; A. Richards, c.; Scott Barrett, 1st.; Warren Brooks, 2d.; Erion Merrill, 3d.; Elmer Glover, ss.; Ira Bodwell l. f.; Vergie Cole, r. f.; Edward Marston, c. f.

DEATH OF E. H. GLEASON AT 7 P. M., OCTOBER 3.

Succumbed to the Ravages of Typhoid Fever After an Illness of Four Weeks.

Lawyer, Legislator, Town Official and Good Citizen. Arose to Prominence and Influence by His Own Efforts.

Elwin H. Gleason died at 7 o'clock Thursday night Oct. 3, after a long struggle with typhoid fever, which from the first gave the physicians fears of a fatal ending.

For some time before he was taken sick he evidently was anticipating something of a fatal nature for he made many preparations that a man does not make unless he is preparing for a long absence from home or death. These thoughtful acts will make the settlement of his affairs comparatively easy.

Mr. Gleason was born in Mexico, not many rods from his late home. His father kept store there and the early years of his life were spent there.

Owing to unhappy home conditions, he was taken to Colorado when a young boy and lived with his uncle, and while there graduated from an academy. After that he worked at various trades, among them being that of compositor. He also did ranch work. He went to Yale College from which he graduated in 1896. After that he went to Boston, where he did newspaper work in a reporter's capacity.

He married in 1895 and returned to Mexico to live in 1897. Since then he has been foremost in the work of improving the place and his influence has been felt in almost everything of a public nature. He has been connected with the school board for several years and was a progressive member. He represented the class district composed of the towns of Dixfield, Mexico, Peru, Canton, Sumner, Roxbury and Byron, in the legislature. He made himself an influence in its work last winter, and was the chairman of the national committee, and a member of the insurance committee.

He was particularly active in the work of securing the passage of the law favorable to the freeing of toll bridges and was a leading influence in the movement to have the Mexico bridge freed.

When he first returned to this section he went into the law office of the present judge A. E. Stearns as clerk. In 1902 he bought a half interest in the business and the co-partnership of the A. E. Stearns Co. was formed. Two years later he bought the interest of Mr. Stearns and conducted the business alone for a while. He then admitted to partnership Lucian Blanchard, who was a clerk in the office. That partnership continued until his death.

Mr. Gleason was a man of exceptional ability and influence. He was a leading man in the temperance movement and was one of the organizers of the Civic League.

He was prominent in fraternal and religious societies, belonging to the Masons, American Mechanics, Golden Cross, and the Congregational church.

The last work of a public nature that he was identified with was the formation of the company that is to supply Mexico with water and fire protection.

His untimely death is mourned by the whole community and the State has lost a citizen whose career would have reflected credit upon it.

He leaves a widow and three children, Basil S. Elsie 5 years old and Bertha an infant.

The funeral occurred Sunday in the Congregational church at 2 p. m.

The service was preached by Rev. J. C. Fisher, pastor of the church. He was assisted by Rev. E. W. Webber of the Universalist church, of Rumford Falls.

The Masons attended in a body, also the American Mechanics, and a large concourse of people from Mexico and Rumford. The interment was at the Farrington cemetery and the body was committed to the grave according to the Masonic ritual.

RALPH T. PARKER Gets Local Support for County Attorney.

Ralph T. Parker, associated with Col. George D. Bisbee in the law firm of Bisbee and Parker, and treasurer of the Rumford Publishing Company, has announced himself as a candidate for county attorney in the next republican convention. The CITIZEN reporter interviewed some of the lawyers of the place who are known to be republicans and found them quite unanimous for Parker. Judge Stearns was quite a strong advocate of Mr. Parker's nomination. His reasons were: First that it would be an honor to the town to have the nomination go to it. Second; That there is not in this county, out side of the present county attorney, a man so well fitted for the position by reason of his learning in the law as is Mr. Parker.

Lucian Blanchard was also favorable to the candidacy of Mr. Parker. Col Bisbee was not seen but it is known that he supports his partner.

From this it would seem that the sentiment of those who will be somewhat influential in the convention is altogether for Mr. Parker.

We find there is also some general interest in his candidacy for he is not only a man who has long been identified with the place but is recognized as a representative republican. He has the reputation of being a hard fighter and a strong believer in conserving the interests of the party.

THE RUMFORD NOVELTY MFG. CO.

The organization of the Rumford Novelty Manufacturing Company that was effected last week introduces a new business to Rumford Falls, and one that gives promise of developing into a big business.

The company is organized to manufacture a combination wash board that is the acme of simplicity and utility. The device consists of two ordinary wash boards so combined that one rests against the side of the tub in the ordinary way, and the top board is so adjusted that it moves up and down the surface of the under board.

There is a tube running over the top of the upper board into the tub. The tube is in effect a suction pump, and every time the board is moved up a stream of water is emitted onto the under board. The result is that the clothes are kept wet the same as though soused by hand, and they get the same degree of rubbing as when the rubbing is done by hand.

There is nothing complicated about the device and its effectiveness is instantly apparent. It is destined for universal use.

Mr. John R. Nye of Waterville, an originator of several useful and successful inventions, is the inventor of this wash board. He spent the greater part of two years bringing the device to perfection. He is the general manager of the company.

EVERY THURSDAY

10 A. M. to 8 P. M.

All Work Warranted.

The method by which the goods will be placed on the market is to appoint county agents, who will employ sub-agents who will canvass their territory and introduce the boards directly into the homes of the people.

As the price is only $3. each, it seems that there should not be a family without one after a canvass has been made.

The corporation is composed of the following well known men.

Matthew McCarthy, president; C. E. Howe, vice president; H. P. Hall, treasurer; J. A. McMennamin, clerk.

Directors: M. J. King, Harry W. Ranlett, Temple E. Spaulding.

These officers are all well known, tried and true business and professional men and are a guarantee that the business of the company will be conducted in the best possible manner.

Matthew McCarthy, the president, is a lawyer of high legal attainments. The vice president, Chas. E. Howe, has been for several years a successful merchant, as also has Harry P. Hall, the treasurer. James A. McMennamin is the tax collector and a capable man and accurate accountant.

The directors are men of high standing in the community. M. J. King conducts a large barber shop and is interested in real estate.

Temple E. Spaulding, the only out of town man in the company, lives at Oquossoc and is in the lumbering business with his father, R. D. Spaulding. He is a man of large business experience.

Harry W. Ranlett is the well known carriage manufacturer who has been in business at Rumford Falls for many years.

The capital stock is $10,000, and has been nearly all subscribed. There is every prospect that the business will grow so that it will require a building of its own in the near future.

Mr. Nye will have an office here and personally superintend the manufacturing and sale of the goods.

The board may be seen at Harrie P. Hall's harness shop on River street.

Ernest White, a lad of 15 years, was brought before the court Saturday charged with the theft of a watch and some other things from Carl Bylow.

The lad admitted the theft and said he would return the goods. He was held until Monday for further examination.

The value of the property was beyond the jurisdiction and the judge was obliged to bind the boy over to the superior court.

White has a mother in Jay, but did not seem inclined to ask her for aid and said he had rather go to Paris.

The lad did not have the appearance of a bad boy. On the contrary he looked like a well intentioned lad, and it seems as though some means could well be devised to keep him out of jail.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause in congestion, pain in blood pressure—nothing so common. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and he has been credited with a little pink tablet, that he called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets. These blood purifiers, and the blood purifiers, are so charming, pleasant, and gentle, that they are sure to equalize the blood circulation.
If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. It's a natural period with women, same cause. If you are sleeping, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a remedy for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets. In 20 minutes, and the blood purifiers distribute the natural blood pressure.
Brush your face and throat; get red, and eat, and sleep. Of course it does. It's a congestion, blood pressure, and it's where pain always. It's simply Common Sense.

Couldn't Lift Ten Pounds.

Doan's Kidney Pills Brought Strength and Health to the Sufferer, Making Him Feel Twenty-Five Years Younger.

Sick kidneys cause a weak, lame or aching back, and a weak back makes a weak man. Can't be well and strong until the kidneys are cured. Treat them with Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's the testimony of one man cured.

J. B. Corton, farmer and lumberman, of Depue, N.Y., says: "I suffered for years with my back. It was so bad that I could not walk any distance nor even ride in easy buggies. I do not believe I could have raised ten pounds of weight from the ground, the pain was so severe. This was my condition when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They quickly relieved me and now I am never troubled as I was. My back is strong and I can walk or ride a long distance and feel just as strong as I did twenty-five years ago. I think so much of Doan's Kidney Pills that I have given a supply of the remedy to some of my neighbors and they have also found good results. If you can sit anything from this rambling note that will be of any service to you, or to any one suffering from kidney trouble, you are at liberty to do so."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Corton will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address: Doan's Kidney Pills Co., Buffalo, N.Y. Sold by all dealers; price, fifty cents per box.

THE HOME CIRCLE.

Pleasant Evening Reveries—A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join the Home Circle at Evening Tides.

As a Girl Sees It.
Dear Editor:—Will you permit one of the girl readers of your paper to occupy a little space in your highly appreciated Home Circle department? I will begin, girl-like, by asking a question. Has no one seen a good girl lately? Are girls now-a-days much worse than those of yore? The average newspaper would make you think so. Every journal (your own excepted) which I pick up has one or more columns devoted to things against women, until I have become frightened, and find myself wondering if I, too, am one of those dreadful creatures. And are those articles written by men? If so, they must be men without homes or families, who have mixed with a debased class of society. Surely no honorable gentleman would pen an article such as we daily peruse, denouncing all the gentler sex as extravagant, jealous, faithless, nay, even immodest, and no home to receive the kiss of a dear wife or meet the innocent eyes of a bevy of sisters or daughters. These articles sow the seed in the minds of young men, for thoughts and feelings that would never have risen there without teaching. Now I am young, and am worldly wise, at least yet I have had my little experience, and I must say that I have met with many pure, good women, kind mothers, loving wives, dutiful daughters, affectionate sisters; women who are not ruining their husbands or fathers by extravagance; who are not falling in love with every handsome man they see; who are not clogging every day with the family physician or husband's friend; but sensible in every respect. And I have met very good men. I regret it, I do not wish to speak against the men, for I rather like them and am willing to say that my experience has been, perhaps unfortunately, I am inclined to believe that as in all ages there has existed noble men, "faithful in love, brave in war," so they still may be found—faithful in love (when there is plenty of money), brave in war (with a major generalship ahead), and pretty good, usually, when the skies are serene and they have nothing to cross it. And now I claim a champion. Will not some one be brave enough to stand in opposition to popular opinion, and truthfully enough to say to the public that he has seen at least one or two real good girls in the course of a year? If such a one can be found I will thank him warmly, and will think that honesty is not yet extinct from the race of men.

Now, Mr. Editor, if this, my first attempt at newspaper writing does not find the waste basket you may hear from me again.
Very truly,
Elizabeth Jane.

Learn to do something.
Young men, learn to do something! Learn to do some particular thing. Learn to acquire a thorough knowledge of some trade, business or profession. A man who comes to maturity without having learned the art of practicing some particular employment is in a pitiable condition no matter whether he possesses money or not. If he be not among the fortunate few favorites of Plutus he will, of course, have to toil all the way up to the summit of fortune as a common laborer, an employment good enough as long as one can do no better, but one we should advise no active young man to choose out of the many. If a young man has health he certainly needs a knowledge of business sufficient to enable him to preserve his wealth. Neither would a trade injure a rich young man. A little of the "brown and brown," and steadiness of character which labor induces, would make him a better, more reliable wielder of capital.

The time has passed when the young men of this country can neglect the task of learning the details of an occupation with impunity. When the country was new and the population thinly scattered over the land, when there was plenty of room and privileges were cheap, people could find employment easily. Skilled labor was scarce, and rough hewers were in plenty. Any one could become an artisan. Mechanics, especially in the west, sprang to the journeyman's position in a day.
But that is changing now. Population is becoming more settled and dense. Property increases rapidly in value. Men are becoming rich, and desire more elegant business houses, residences, carriages, and artistic appliances of civilization of all kinds. The people demand better public edifices. Mechanics, artists, and all kinds of skilled labor are in demand. He will win who has his trade best learned. The man of skill is always in demand. The young man who would be sure of employment all the year round, in "hard times" as well as in times of prosperity, must know how to do something thoroughly.

It is well to get an education. A thorough educational discipline will make you an abler man. But educate for some particular object.
Every good act is charity. Your smiling in your brother's face is charity; an exhortation of your fellowmen to do virtuous deeds is equal to almsgiving; your putting a wanderer on the right track is charity; your removing stones and thorns and other obstructions from the road is charity. A man's true wealth hereafter is the good he does in this world to his fellowmen. When he dies people will say, "What property has he left behind him?" But the angels who examine him in the grave will ask, "What good deeds hast thou sent before thee?"
Humbly.

As birds sing oftener on lowly roofs than palace domes, and roses love best to climb o'er lowly window sills and cottage eaves, so to the poor, God's blessings come, freighted with dearest wealth, and to the humble heart his love is sweetest. They who have oftenest bowed to earth with deep afflictions are nearest heaven; and as the rose never gives forth all its sweetness until it is crushed, so human hearts, need the good Father's hand to press the blossoms of purity, and love and faith, that He may not have imparted to them their heavenly fragrance in vain.

DEEP SEA TRAGEDY.
Why is it that the ocean moans?
That's what I'd like to know;
It may be the lobster
Has pinched its under-tow.

That thrills its bosom wide,
What time it shudders at the bar
And thinks of last night's tide.

If now and then a whale,
Escaping from a swordfish,
Should lash you with his tail.

The fickle ocean wooed the moon,
Then to the person hied,
The sound you hear is only this:
The moaning of the tied.

The smelly buzz-boats sweep along
With hollow cough and spluttering;
Small wonder that the ocean shows
Displeasure by its muttering.

Why does the ocean groan and moan,
And net as if in its death throes?
We guess for no one knows,
Just tired of heaving billows.

Perfect Womanhood

The greatest menace to woman's permanent happiness in life is the suffering that comes from some derangement of the feminine organs.

Many thousands of women have realized this too late to save their health, barely in time to save their lives.

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headache, bearing-down sensations, nervousness, irregularities or the "blues," she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The greatest woman's remedy for woman's ills, made only of roots and herbs. It cures Female Complaints, such as Dragging Sensations, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation and Ulceration, and all Organic Diseases, and is invaluable in the Change of Life. It dissolves and Expels Tumors at an early stage. Subdues Faintness, Nervous Prostration, Exhaustion, and strengthens and tones the Stomach. Cures Headache, General Debility, Indigestion, and invigorates the whole female system. It is an excellent remedy for derangements of the Kidneys in either sex.

A GIRLS' DORMITORY FOR GOULD'S ACADEMY.

Honorable L. E. Holden, Gould's Academy's Benefactor again Comes to the Assistance of the School

Hon. Liberty E. Holden of Cleveland, Ohio, who many years ago was a student at Gould's Academy and who has ever held a warm spot in his heart for the Institution, where he laid the foundation for a remarkably successful career in life, came to Bethel last Saturday with the intentions of offering further assistance to the Institution along such lines as would seem most needed.

In view of the fact that the growing condition of the school, under the management of Professor Hanson, has made it almost impossible to accommodate in the homes of Bethel, the students who are seeking admission to the school, the most imperative need at the present time seemed to be a dormitory. This being true, Mr. Holden resolved that a dormitory should be had, and came to Bethel with the purpose of arranging for one, which he did, by purchasing the property of Mr. E. C. Bowler on Church street.

Though this property was bought by Mr. Bowler, only about a year ago for a home, it was bourn upon him that, owing to the fact that it joined the Academy property, it was the one place in Bethel that should go to the Academy for the above mentioned purpose, and in consequence he was persuaded to sell.

The buildings are especially well adapted to the purposes for which they will be used and can be fitted up with comparatively small outlay, to accommodate a large number of students; while the large grounds will make an invaluable addition to the present school grounds.

All friends of Gould's Academy should and do rejoice that such a one has gone out from the Institution, and not only had such a business career in life as to bring him a nice fortune, but is inspired from the past and present good work of the Institution to generously assist in this tangible way, in broadening its sphere and capacity for usefulness.

Mr. Bowler will occupy the property during the winter, after which it will be put in condition to be used for the school another year.

SIXTY-SIX BRIDGES OVER SIX FEET.

It will be remembered that there was an act before the last legislature providing that the State assume the expense of building and maintaining all bridges in the State of Maine six feet or more in width. Though this law did not pass, towns have been asked to report the number of bridges that would come under such a law, and during the past week Mr. W. O. Straw, selectman and Mr. H. G. Barker have taken measurements of two bridges of Bethel, and find that within the town there are sixty-six bridges over six feet wide. There are also about as many more under six feet but over five feet in width. Bethel is not entirely destitute of bridges and should such a law ever pass she will cease to mother quite a nestful of bridges.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1907

We spend much time in this country mourning over the oppressive governments of European countries but at the same time the people of those countries are rejoicing in immunity from typhoid fever, and the cause is that authorities insist upon a pure supply of water and milk. Typhoid fever claims one hundred victims in this country to ten in European countries, outside of Russia. In that land of ill omen they allow almost as many to die of that disease as we do in this country.

Thomas J. Lyons, State Labor Commissioner recently gave out a statement regarding his views upon child labor, in which he said:

"My sentiments are in accord with those of a distinguished clergyman who said that 'The industry or business that depends upon the labor of children for its successful operation had better not exist.' I sincerely wish that the talent that is being used in favor of the employment of children might be engaged in the more humane cause of advocating a higher rate of wages for the parents, a wage that will enable the father to support and educate his children not for factory slaves but for higher stations in life for which they may be fitted. The 15-year age requirement is the school law. If there are laws that conflict in the slightest degree with its enforcement they should be amended at the first opportunity. The school law was in the statutes before the labor law was prepared, and if uniformity of the statutes is so desirable, why was not the labor law planned to conform to the school law? The evil arising from child labor is not comprehended by those who have never come in contact with it."

In spite of the power of money and the idea that public will is no longer heeded in this country we see that some things that are for the public good, and against the wishes of great corporations, make headway. The parcels post which is fought by the Express Companies, is really making progress and will no doubt become a feature of our mail service before long. The Express Companies have been in the habit of franking everything for congressmen and senators, but the importance of the parcels post is too great to be side-tracked by so small a consideration. The politician who keeps his eyes open to the signs of the times usually knows when to stop defying the public will.

ELWIN H. GLEASON.

The death of Elwin H. Gleason is one of those sad occurrences that renders the power of language he knew so well how to use impotent, when used in an attempt to alleviate the grief of the widow and his dearly beloved children. To tender them the sympathy of the community and give expression to the respect in which he was held is the utmost we can do, and in doing that we are only repeating what the officiating clergyman and hosts of friends have already said. We can do no more than to leave the stricken family to mourn their dead and to gain what consolation they may from the knowledge that every thing that mortal could do was done, and courage from the ministrations of those friends to whom the welcome of the home has been extended.

friends who will never fail when aid and counsel are needed.

The community loses a man of force, a man of high character, and one whose past usefulness was but a slight indication of what he would have accomplished in the future.

He was a self made man in the truest sense; for his early life was not such as gave him the advantages of a happy home; and at an early age he was thrown upon his own resources and worked himself, unaided to the position he held at the time of his death. For the high character he developed, and the education he secured no one but himself is entitled to credit.

He was a temperate and a true temperance man and worked for the advancement of the cause in the way he thought most effective. He was a Republican in politics and yet he was not a partisan. He was orthodox in religion and yet was not a sectarian. He was possessed of a mind that had been enlarged and broadened by experience with the world and applied that knowledge and his reason to all matters that came before him, either of a private or public nature.

Such men are none too numerous; and in the death of Elwin H. Gleason this community has suffered an irreparable loss.

"READ DICKENS," SAYS
ROOSEVELT.

It is a good omen when the President of the United States advises the people to read Dickens, as he did in his speech at Cairo last Thursday.

Any person or community of persons that thoroughly appreciate Dickens must have an insight to the shams and pretenses that govern so much of the world, deep enough to clearly see the true characters of the Uriah Heeps and Pecksnips and seeing and knowing, not to allow them to constantly be in control of affairs.

We say any one having the necessary insight, and there is the rub. We know many persons very familiar with Dickens' stories who really know nothing of the philosophy of them.

Most of us read those books when we were so young that the lessons were lost upon us. We echo the President's advice and advise all to read Dickens' stories and gain wisdom.

We would supplement that advice by recommending the close study of "Swift's Gulliver's Travels." That was also written in England—the England of a century and a quarter earlier than the England of which and in which Dickens wrote, yet they both typify nearly the same characters only the former speaks of nations, rather than individuals. There is a great difference in their methods. Swift was obliged to conceal his real meaning to such an extent that the story is often read mostly without the slightest thought that the Ya-hoos were a grossly, yet applicably, within the limits, typified race of humans. The Liliputians and the insignificant questions that disturbed the peace and happiness of their imaginary realm, portray the conditions then existing in England. Although both a tory and a clergyman, Swift spared neither his party nor his church in his satire.

We have been in the habit of handing "Gulliver's Travels" over to our boys and girls and thinking it a book of extravagances, whose only mission is to amuse. It should be read, and read understandingly, by adults. One's education is not complete unless the unabridged—an annotated "Gulliver's Travels" has been read, and understood.

WHICH? THEN WHAT.

The greatest problem that perhaps has ever forced itself upon the world—that of race amalgamation of mankind from this time until it is solved.

The Western World both with religious zeal and commercial greed forced itself upon the indifferent or mildly opposed nations of the East.

It now transpires that the orient has learned from the accident not its religion, not its social and moral ideas, not its political system, but its very worse virtues, its art of war and commerce.

A result that few if any of the wise men could foresee. A result that is pregnant with possible disaster to our civilization and political ideals.

Geographically the Americans are so situated that the first fruits of the amalgamation or conflict, (whichever it proves to be,) must be ripened on those continents.

Unfortunately the United States and Canada are the countries where the transplanting of oriental civilization has begun, and where it will continue if it is allowed its freedom.

It can only be stopped by violating treaties, and trampling upon ethical justice. Statesmen may invent various names and phrases to disguise these unsavory facts, but facts they are, and there is no thing subtle enough to blind us to it.

With all its glaring defects, we maintain that the New England community stands as the highest ideal that has been attained by any people within the historic times, and that ideal has permeated the whole country.

We have during the past seventy-five years, taken in many people from foreign shores and not suffered much, if any, and the

What are we to do? Shall we sacrifice the principle of ethical justice or evoke the law of self-preservation? That is our first problem, that assured, and we have others resulting from the decision.

with our standard maintained, the limit has been reached, and possibly over-reached. If we admit the Oriental, the probability of assimilation is not one in a million.

new comers have in a great measure arisen to our standards of living. But they too were of the Caucasian race. Within the last ten years we have taken in many millions more of Caucasian people but of races more nearly allied to the Oriental styles of political and industrial systems.

In the matter of assimilation.

Will you please say in your paper that the telephone service in this town is very poor.

I tried for several minutes to get attention from Central and failed. Several times I have had the same experience and know of others who complain of the same kind of treatment.

Some one is negligent, and complaints to the operators do no good. Can not you do something to help in bettering the service?

COMMUNICATION.

The troubles of Organized Labor.

The communication herewith printed setting forth the position of both sides of the controversy between the paper and pulp makers were sent to this office independently of each other and as they deal pretty much with the same phase of the question, we give them side by side.

To those who are not used to the disputes between the labor organizations and congressional debates we will say that hard words and epithets are taken and given oblivious of the disagreeable effect upon the general public and the participants do not mind them.—Ed.

To the Editor of the CITIZEN:

In the discussion held in McMechanic Hall Monday night, Sept. 30, between the representatives of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers and that of the Paper Makers Organization, I charged among other things, that when Mr. Carey and his grievance committee went to the office of the West Virginia Pulp Co. in New York City to make a demand for the 8 hour day for his organization in Mechanicville, the company absolutely refused to discuss the matter with Mr. Carey and told him they would receive his committee in conference as their employees but not as members of organized labor; that to this conference he would not be admitted and that the company bluntly and absolutely refused to recognize him or his organization in the matter.

I also charged that Mr. Carey then basely agreed to allow his committee to confer with the company as their employees, while he waited outside himself. Mr. Carey in his reply gave a slippery explanation that I did not consider an honest answer to the damning charge that I had brought against him. I therefore got up and in the presence of the audience, asked him this question:—"Mr. Carey, did not the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. refuse to recognize you and your organization when you asked them to confer with you as to the 8 hour day in Mechanicville?" Mr. Carey in a loud voice and emphatic manner, answered, "The West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company did not refuse to recognize me or my organization!" Now to show every man who heard this answer what an unblushing lie Mr. Carey was guilty of when he made this statement, I shall quote from his annual report, made to the Northampton Convention, on page 12 of this report he says:

"On May 14, with a committee of the local at Mechanicville, N. Y. I called on the manager of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company at New York, who refused to discuss the questions of labor with any but men in their employ, gave the local committee an audience, but refused to discuss the question with me as representing the organization."

Who was Mr. Carey lying to? His convention in Northampton, or to the men he addressed in the hall here Monday night? If he tells the truth in his annual report, then he must have lied, and lied brazenly when he denied that statement to the people of Rumford Falls Monday night.

He also lied, and lied brazenly, when he stated that the different organizations in Mechanicville had not agreed locally to stand together for the 8 and a hour day; and he lied and lied brazenly when he told the people of Rumford Falls that there was and is no organization of carpenters or machinists in Mechanicville. He knows the reverse to be the truth, and if he is so well posted about the conditions in Mechanicville as he pretends to be, he must know the president of the Machinists Union there who was discharged.

But these statements of Jeremiah Carey are on a par with the other reckless statements he made, at the meeting referred to. He is aware that wherever the facts of the Mechanicville strike are known, Mr. Carey's organizations are classed as "scabs" and "strike breakers" and have violated every pledge they gave as members of organized labor.

He knows also that his organization is tottering to ruin, while Fitzgerald's organization has doubled its membership in the twenty months of its existence as an independent organization. He knows that Fitzgerald's by its honesty, its ability and its fidelity to the welfare of the pulp worker, is the only organization in the pulp making industry to-day that commands the respect of the manufacturer and the confidence and loyalty of its six thousand members.

All these things Jerry T. Carey

SIMPLE MIXTURE RELIEVES VICTIMS.

Prepare Recipe at Home.

Druggists Here in Town Say They Can Supply the Ingredients.

Get from any prescription pharmacist the following:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Shake well in a bottle and take a teaspoonful dose after each meal and at bedtime.

The above is considered by an eminent authority, who writes in a New York daily paper, as the finest prescription ever written to relieve Backache, Kidney trouble, Weak Bladder and all forms of Urinary difficulties. This mixture acts promptly on the eliminative tissues of the Kidney, enabling them to filter and strain the uric acid and other waste matter from the blood which causes Rheumatism. Some persons who suffer with these afflictions may not feel inclined to place much confidence in this simple mixture, yet those who have tried it say the results are simply surprising, the relief being effected without the slightest injury to the stomach or other organs.

Mix some and give it a trial. It certainly comes highly recommended. It is the prescription of an eminent authority, whose entire reputation, it is said, was established by it.

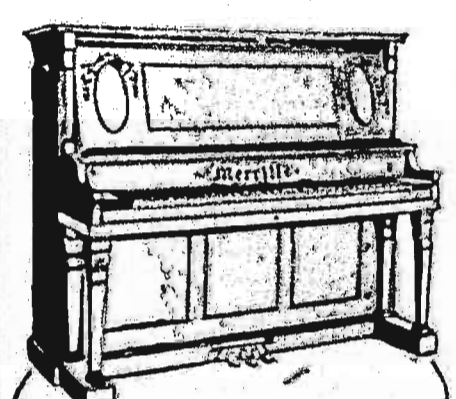

A druggist here at home when asked stated that he could either supply the ingredients or mix the prescription for our readers, also recommends it as harmless.

knows and he is endeavoring to help the incompetency and rottenness of his organization in a veil of falsehood. I challenge Mr. Carey or any member of his organization to discuss the merits of this question in the columns of the local press, and leave it to the pulp workers of Rumford Falls to decide who is right and who is wrong. Justice does not fear the light and the case of the Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers Organization is so absolutely just that we court the fullest publicity of its aims, its efforts and its success in advancing the welfare of its members.

Timely Notes from Day's

Fresh air and proper clothing is far better than risking your life by doing without them and relying on the doctor's skill to pull you through.

Nine times out of ten when the doctor comes he'll immediately pull open a window and order you to get healthful underwear and sees to it that your feet are protected from the draft along the floor, provided you are able to sit up. These orders, he will tell you, will do you more good than his pills.

Wouldn't it be wise to get your underclothing now, before you are sick with that cold or grip, sore throat, etc.?

EAT WHAT YOU WANT.

Science Has Now Found the True Way to Cure Indigestion.

A few years ago, when a sufferer from indigestion went to a stomach specialist, the result was a rigid diet list that almost meant starvation.

But the first thing to do in the case of indigestion or stomach weakness is to strengthen the muscular walls of the stomach and intestines, so that they will care for the food that is eaten. In no other way can this be done as well as by taking a M-O-N-A tablet before each meal.

This restores strength to the stomach muscles and stimulates the pouring out of gastric juices, so that the food is digested readily and its nourishment retained in the system to build up energy and vitality.

Do not think the sick headache, heartburn, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, spots before the eyes, sleeplessness and many other symptoms that are the direct result of indigestion, will go away of themselves. The stomach must be built up and strengthened by M-O-N-A before you can be well and strong, free from suffering and distress.

The guarantee that the Cote Pharmacy, A. H. Williamson Prop. and Nathan Reynolds of Canton gives with every 50-cent box of M-O-N-A, to refund the money unless the remedy cures, shows their confidence in the treatment.

OUR CANDY IS PURE

FRIDAY, THE 13th

By Thomas W. Lawson

"No, Jim, I have work to do to-night, work that won't wait. That tariff bill was buttoned up to-day, and it has just been announced that the Sugar directors have declared a big extra dividend. Things have come out just about as I told you they would, and the stock is climbing to-day. They say it will touch 200 to-morrow, and the street is predicting 250 for it in ten days. Barry Conant has been a steady buyer all day and the news bureau announced that Camemeyer and the 'Standard Oil' are twenty millions winners. They say the Washington gamblers, the congressmen, senators and cabinet members have made a killing. About every one seems to have fattened up, Jim, but you and me and Beulah Sands and the public. The public gets the ax both ways, as usual. They have been shaken out of their stock, and they will be compelled to pay millions more each year for their sugar than they would if this law had not been made for their benefit. Jim, there is no disguising the fact that the American people are as helpless in the hands of these thugs of the 'system' as though they lived in the realm of the sultan, where a few cutthroat brigands are licensed to rob and oppress to their heart's content. Jim Randolph, you know this game of finance. You know how it is worked, and the men who work it. Tell me if there is any consideration due Wall street and its heart-and-soul butchers at the hands of honest men."

"I do not know what you mean, Bob. What are you driving at?"

"Never mind what I am driving at. I ask you whether, if an honest man know how to beat Wall street at its own game, he should hesitate to beat it—hesitate because of anything connected with conscience or morals? You saw what Barry Conant was able to do to us that day simply by standing on the floor of the stock exchange and outstaying me in opening and closing his mouth. You saw he was able to sell Sugar to a point so low that I was obliged to let go of our 150,000 shares at $8,000,000 to $10,000,000 less than we could have got for them if we could have held them until to-day. Because of this trick his clients, the 'system,' instead of us, make five to seven millions."

"I don't follow you, Bob. I know that Barry Conant was able to do this because he had more money behind him than you."

"You think so, do you, Jim? That is the way it looks to you, but I tell you money had nothing to do with it. Nothing had to do with it but the fiendish system of fraud and trickery upon which the whole stock-gambling structure is reared. Nothing entered into the whole business but the trickery of stock-gambling as conducted to-day. It was only a question, Jim, of a man's opening and closing his mouth and spitting out words. From the minute Barry Conant came into that crowd until he left and we were ruined, he showed no money, no anything that I did not show. From the very nature of the business he could not. He simply said: 'Sold' offener and longer than I said 'Buy.' He may have had money back of him, or he may only have had nerve. God Almighty is the only one who can tell, for when Conant was through he was able to buy back at 90 the 50,000 shares he sold me at 175, the 50,000 that broke my back, Jim. If I had known as much that day as I do now I would have stood in that crowd and bought all the stock he sold at 180, and I would have stood there buying until hell froze over or he quit, then I would have made him rebuy it at 250 or 260, and I would have broken him and all his Camemeyer and 'Standard Oil' backers; broken them to their last crime-covered dollar."

"Bob, what are you talking about? It is all Chinese to me. I cannot get head or tail of what you are driving at."

"I know you can't, Jim, neither could Wall street if it were listening to me. But you will, and Wall street will, too, before many days go by. Now I must be off. I have work to do."

He put on his hat and left me trying to puzzle out just what he meant. Next day the Sugar bulls had the center of the stock exchange stage. All day long they tossed Sugar from one to another, as though each thousand shares had been a wisp of hay. Instead of $200,000—for soon after the opening it soared to 200. The "system" cohorts were in absolute control, with Barry Conant never a minute away from the Sugar-pole, always on the alert to steer the course of price when they threatened to run away on the up or the down slide. It was evident to the expert readers of the tape that the "system" was carrying its steel for an exceptionally brilliant run. Ike Bloomenstein, the Avenger Friend, who for 40 years had kept close track of every movement on the floor, and who would bet anything from his Fifth Avenue mansion to his over-the-boardroom straw hat, that all stocks and movements were as strictly subject to the law of averages as are the tides to the moon and sun, remarked to Joe Barnes, the loan expert:

"'Cam' and de Keroseners are pud-ding up extra dop rails to dot wool-pen deh hat ben piddling since deh took Pop Prownlee and deh Rantolphs into camp. Unless my topesheet goes pack on me, for deh first dime in 40 years, dere vill be a record clip petore a week from to-day."

"I am with you there, Ike," answered Joe. "If Barry Conant's knife-edged teeth ever spelt a killing, they do to-day. I just got orders from somewhere to drop call money from four to two and a half per cent, and they have given me ten millions to drop it with and the order is to favor Sugar as 'collat.' Some one is anxious to make it easy for the beat-ers to get the coin to buy all the Sugar they want. Ike, you and I might make turkey money for Thanksgiving, if we only knew whether Barry and his bunch were going to shoot her up 30 or 40 points before they turned the bag upside down, or whether they will bury them from 200 to 150. What do you think?"

"I gant make out, aldo I hat vatch-ed dem sharp all day. Dey certainly hat deh lambs lined up right now for any vey dey vont to twist id. I nefer see a petter market for a deluge. For Barry's movements all day I should say dey would keep holdin' her until about noon to-morrow, unt dat deh might get her up to two-fifty or even to deh two-fifty. Put dere are von or two topes on deh sheet vhat run deh under vay. First der is dey fact you gant run oht, dat dere is already on deh Sugar vagon deh plaguest load of chuley suckers dat efer game in from deh suppurbs. Sharley pates says if any von hat tapped his Vash-ing-ton vire or any utter capital vire dis veech he would hat bought dere was a Senate, house, unt kabinet roll-call on. Deh topes say 'Cam' vill defer led dat punch off grafters siltz unt mit real money if he can help id unt deh game iss entirely in his hands."

"I agree with you, Ike. If I had the steering of this killing, I don't think

"To-Morrow's Friday der Thirteenth."

I would take any chance of tempting them to dump and grab the profits by carrying it much over 200. But you can't tell what 'Cam' and those four-eyed dentists at 26 Broadway will do."

"Yes, put der iss anudder thing, Cho, dat makes me sit up unt plink about her golt offer two hundred. To-morrow's Friday der Thirteenth."

"Of course, Ike, that is something to be reckoned with, and every man on the floor and in the street as well has his eye on it. Friday, the 13th, would break the best bull market ever under way. You and I know that, Ike, and the dope shows it, too, but you have got to stack th's up against it on this trip. No man on the floor knows what Friday, the 13th, means better than Barry Conant. He has worked it to the queen's taste man, a time. Why, Barry would not eat to-day for fear the food would get stuck in his windpipe. He's never left the pole for a minute; but suppose, Ike, Barry had upped off 'Cam' that all the boys will let go their fillers, and most of them will take one on the short side over to-night for a superstitious drop at the opening; and suppose 'Cam' has told him to take them all in a camp and give her a ratter-scraper at the opening, where would old Friday, 13th, land on tomorrow, the 13th, will have a new meaning to Wall street. This was interpreted as pointing to a terrific jump in Sugar to-morrow."

"The street" knew that the news bureau that sent out this item was friendly to Barry Conant and the "system," and that it would print nothing displeasing to them. Therefore, this must be a foreword of the coming harvest of the bulls and the slaughter of the bears.

Others than Ike Bloomenstein remarked upon the fact that Bob Brown-ley had hung close to the Sugar-pole all day, but when the close had come and gone without his having anything to do with the Sugar skyrockets, he dropped out of his fellow-brokers' minds. Wall street has no use for any but the "doer." The poet and the mooner would be no more secure from interruption in the center of the Sahara than in Wall street between ten and three o'clock. Some sage has said that the human mind, like the well-bucket, can carry only its fill. The Wall street mind always has its fill of budding dollars. In consequence, there is never room for those other interests that enter the normal mind.

Friday, the 13th of November, drifted over Manhattan island in a drear drizzle of marrow-chilling haze, which (To be continued.)

A Reliable Home Defender.
The truth of the adage that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," has probably been forced upon more people through the agency of "L. F." Atwood's Bitters than would readily be believed. And what is still more remarkable is the fact that "L. F." Atwood's remedy is equally as efficacious in its curing powers as it is as a preventive against sickness. Thousands of families have depended upon the "L. F." medicine as a household remedy for over half a century; and it is no exaggeration to say that few medicines have averted more sickness or prevented more suffering. Don't wait until sickness comes before getting "L. F." Atwood's Bitters. A bottle in the house affords a reliable protection. At the store, 35c.

FUNERAL OF FRANK BELANGER.

The funeral of Frank Belanger who was killed in the M. C. R. B. wreck at Waterville, Wednesday, Oct. 2, occurred at Rumford Falls, Saturday morning Oct. 4.

At the time of his death Mr. Belanger was not residing here, but had formerly lived here, and was very well known. His wife and 18 months old child were visiting here when the accident happened.

She is said to be in delicate health and the shock of the death of her husband has quite unnerved her. The funeral services were attended by the Catholic order of Foresters in a body. Rev. J. A. Laflamme of the St. John The Baptist Roman Catholic church conducted the services at the church.

Everybody knows that the finish is largely governed by the start. If you start right you stand a good chance of a right finish.

This applies to buying clothes as well as riding to hounds; if you start your clothes-buying by a determination to get the best possible for your money, you'll get it. That means that you'll start at our store, and you'll finish in one of our Hart Schaffner & Marx suits or overcoats,

That will be the right finish for your clothes buying because these clothes are right in every way, from start to finish; all-wool, tailored right, correct in style, perfect fitting.

Crawford
Cooking-Ranges
What Our NEW TYPE of Range Means

Maintaining the Crawford reputation for progress, we have constructed a new type of range which is better than even our heretofore best. In this new design the useless and awkward End Hearth is omitted. The ashes are disposed of by falling into a HOD far below the fire, which makes their removal easier and the grates to last longer. The Coal and Ash Hods are side by side, of the same size, and the Ash HOD being emptied can be returned full of coal. There is also more room on top of these ranges. The "Palace" is extra large size and the "Castle" smaller.

All the famous Crawford features are present: Single Damper, Patented Grate, Cup-Joint Oven Flues, Asbestos-Backed Oven, Improved Oven Indicator, Send for our booklet.
